1. WHAT INFORMATION DO WE COLLECT?

Personal information you provide to us

In Short: We collect personal information that you provide to us.

We collect personal information that you voluntarily provide to us when you express an interest in obtaining information about us or our products and Services, when you participate in activities on the Services, or otherwise when you contact us. Personal information we collect from you can be categorized as follows:

- Contact information – first name, last name, email address, mailing address, telephone number.
- Account information – if you have an account with us, user ID, account username, account password, account number, and other information that we may request or that you may provide relating to your account.
- Transactional information – details about your transactions with us, including method of payment, payments received, payment details, transaction history, and other information relating to any payments transmitted to us by you.
- Marketing information – details regarding informational and promotional materials you may have requested or received from us, your receipt of promotional communications, and information on your marketing or communication preferences.
- Communication information – copies of communications and inquiries you have submitted to us, including through email, calls, chatbots, and features available on our website.
- Device and usage information – details regarding how and when you use our website, including the device used to connect to our website or software, your IP address and device identifier, the frequency and duration of your usage, the pages you view, what websites or search terms referred you to our website, and information about your interaction with our website.

We collect this information when you visit or navigate our website, fill in forms on through use of our website, submit inquiries to us, communicate with us (including by phone, email, or otherwise), visit or engage with our social media pages, participate in surveys or sponsored activities, or otherwise provide us with personal information.

Please note that we may aggregate or anonymize the foregoing types of information such that they are no longer capable of identifying you, in which case they are no longer considered “personal information.” We may also collect information about you from third-party sources and information about you that is publicly available.

All personal information that you provide to us must be true, complete, and accurate, and we request that you notify us of any changes to such personal information.

Automatically collected usage and device information

Like most website operators, we use various technologies to automatically collect information about visitors. Those technologies include:

- Cookies. Cookies are small text files that a website transfers to a visitor’s browser or device for recordkeeping purposes. We use cookies to personalize visitors’ experiences on our website, provide content that we believe may be of interest, track visitor trends and patterns, engage in marketing and advertising, and otherwise analyze our website traffic. For further information about cookies, including how to refuse cookies, please visit www.allaboutcookies.org. Please note that if cookies are disabled, you may not be able to enjoy certain features of our website.
- Log Files and Device Identifiers. We use log files to track actions occurring on the website and collect data about visitors, including IP address, browser type, Internet service provider, referring/exit pages, date/time stamps, and device identifiers. This information is used for security purposes and to detect and prevent fraud.
- Pixels, Tags, and Web Beacons. Our website may also use “pixels,” “tags,” or “web beacons.” These technologies are small pieces of code that run when a page or email is loaded. They are used to monitor the behavior of the visitor or email recipient—such as what icons were clicked or whether links in an email were opened—and gather analytics. For example, when you open our homepage, a pixel may run and generate information based on the visit, and then this information is processed by us and our vendors. Pixels work in conjunction with cookies to let us know what portions of our website are of interest to you and to help us provide you with tailored information from our website. If you turn off cookies, the pixels, tags, and web beacons we use may still detect certain information about your interaction with our website and disregard any cookie-prohibitive markers or signals. Note, the vendors that supply us these pixels, tags, web beacons, or similar tracking technologies collect your personal information instantaneously and simultaneous to our collection of your information and they may use the information for their own or others' purposes.

- Analytics. Our website may also use third-party analytics tools, such as Google Analytics. You can find more information about how data is collected and processed in connection with the Google Analytics service here. You can also read Google's privacy policy here.

Information from third parties

We may obtain both personal and non-personal information about you from our vendors, affiliates, business partners, contractors, suppliers, and other third parties (including social media platforms) and add it to other information we have collected. We, and the third parties we engage, may combine information we collect from you over time, and across our website, with information obtained from other sources. This helps us improve the information's overall accuracy and completeness, and also helps us better tailor our interactions with you.

2. HOW DO WE USE YOUR INFORMATION?

In Short: We use your information to provide, improve, and administer our Services, communicate with you, for security and fraud prevention, and to comply with law. We may also process your information for other purposes with your consent. We process your information only when we have a valid legal reason to do so.

We (or service providers acting on our behalf) may use the personal information identified above for the following purposes:

- Negotiating, entering into, and managing our relationship and agreements with you.
- Processing requests or inquiries relating to our products and services.
- Administering our products and services.
- Providing and optimizing your experience on our website and ensuring that our content is presented to you in the most effective manner.
- Communicating with you and communicating regarding our services, our agreements with you, and other issues.
- Sending you promotional or informational communications and solicitations, tracking your marketing preferences, and for our internal marketing purposes.
- Managing customer service issues, including issues relating to the performance of our services and user feedback.
- Developing, updating, and improving our website, user service, and user experience, and otherwise improving our knowledge and insights regarding users of our services.

- Preventing and detecting fraud, financial crime, hacking activities, security breaches, and other unlawful activities in connection with our website.
- Enforcing our agreements with customers, participants, partners, or vendors, complying with our legal or regulatory obligations, and defending or advancing legal claims.
- Notifying you about changes to our website or material changes to this Policy.
- Providing you with surveys or otherwise soliciting feedback from you.
- Performing other functions as otherwise described to you at the time of collection or to which you otherwise consent.

We may send you direct marketing communications from time to time including news, updates, offers, and other promotions relating to our services and activities. We will only send marketing messages where the law allows us to do so and, in the event that you no longer wish to receive marketing from us, then you can always unsubscribe using the option provided in the footer of the communication you have received or by contacting us using the information below.

3. WHEN AND WITH WHOM DO WE DISCLOSE YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION?

In Short: We may disclose information in specific situations described in this section and/or with the following categories of third parties.

We may disclose your personal information to the following categories of third parties:

- Service Providers. We may disclose your personal information to service providers we use to facilitate our business operations and administration. For example, our service providers may include IT and system administration providers, data storage providers, and vendors to facilitate website hosting and maintenance.
- Marketing and Advertising Vendors. We may disclose your personal information to marketing and advertising vendors that may assist with marketing campaigns, communications, and advertisement placement.
- Analytics Vendors. We may disclose your personal information to analytics vendors in order to understand our website traffic and usage patterns and optimize our website.
- Legal Compliance and Protection. We may disclose your personal information to regulatory and governmental authorities, law enforcement agencies, and courts, as necessary to comply with applicable laws and regulations, respond to a subpoena, search warrant, or other lawful request for information, or to otherwise protect our rights. We further reserve the right to disclose your information to law enforcement or regulatory authorities in the event that we believe you, other individuals, our partners or service providers, or anyone else is in danger, at risk of harm, in violation of applicable laws, or representing a safety concern.

- Professional Advisors. We may disclose your personal information to our professional advisors, such as lawyers, accountants, and other similar advisors.
- Business Transfers. We may disclose or transfer your information in connection with, or during negotiations of, any merger, acquisition, divestiture, restructuring, reorganization, dissolution, sale of company assets, financing, or other sale or transfer of some or all of our business to another company, whether as a going concern or as part of bankruptcy, liquidation, or similar proceeding, where the information is among the assets being transferred.

4. HOW LONG DO WE KEEP YOUR INFORMATION?

In Short: We use various factors to determine the appropriate retention period for personal information.

We determine the appropriate retention period for personal information in our possession by considering our legal obligations, the purposes for which the information was collected, and our needs to bring or defend against legal claims. We then delete or destroy information according to our data retention policies that are based on that analysis.

5. HOW DO WE PROTECT YOUR INFORMATION?

In Short: We aim to protect your personal information through a system of organizational and technical security measures.

We use appropriate administrative, technical, and physical measures to protect your personal information from loss, theft, and unauthorized use, disclosure, or modification. However, despite our safeguards and efforts to secure your information, no electronic transmission over the Internet or information storage technology can be guaranteed to be 100% secure, so we cannot promise or guarantee that hackers, cybercriminals, or other unauthorized third parties will not be able to defeat our security and improperly collect, access, steal, or modify your information. While we strive to protect your personal information, we cannot ensure or warranty the security of any information you transmit to us and you do so at your own risk. You should only access the Services within a secure environment.

Our website may contain links to third-party websites. Such websites have separate privacy policies that you should review. We do not control these third-party websites and are not responsible for the content of linked websites or those companies' data-handling practices.

6. DO WE COLLECT INFORMATION FROM MINORS?

In Short: We do not knowingly collect data from or market to children under 13 years of age or the equivalent age as specified by law in your jurisdiction.

We do not knowingly collect, solicit data from, or market to children under 13 years of age, nor do we knowingly sell such personal information. If you become aware of any data we may have collected from children under age 13, please contact us at contact@adraxe.com.

7. WHAT ARE YOUR CHOICES ABOUT YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION?

We respect your right to make choices about the ways we collect, use, and disclose your information. We try to offer you meaningful choices regarding your personal information. Some choices you have regarding personal information include the following.

- Opting out of marketing and promotional communications: You can unsubscribe from our marketing and promotional communications at any time by clicking on the unsubscribe link in the emails that we send, or by contacting us using the details provided in the section HOW CAN YOU CONTACT US ABOUT THIS NOTICE? below. You will then be removed from the marketing lists. However, we may still communicate with you — for example, to send you service-related messages that are necessary for the administration and use of your account, to respond to service requests, or for other non-marketing purposes.
- Google Analytics: As discussed above, we use Google Analytics in connection with our website. If you would like to refrain from having your data collected by Google Analytics, Google has developed an opt-out browser that you can use. You can find more information on how Google uses information it collects here.
- Tracking Technologies: Depending on your browser or device, you may have the option to set the browser to accept all cookies, reject all cookies, notify you when a cookie is set, or delete cookies. Each browser and device are different, so we recommend you evaluate the tools and settings available in your browser or device. Please note that if you disable or delete cookies, you may not be able to access or use certain features of our website.
- Declining to Provide Information: You can choose not to provide us with information we may request through our website, but that may result in you being unable to use certain features of our website, request information about our services, or initiate other transactions with us.

If you have questions or comments about your privacy rights, you may email us at contact@adraxe.com.

8. CONTROLS FOR DO-NOT-TRACK FEATURES

Most web browsers and some mobile operating systems and mobile applications include a Do-Not-Track ("DNT") feature or setting you can activate to signal your privacy preference not to have data about your online browsing activities monitored and collected. Our website does not currently honor "do not track" signals.

9. California "Shine The Light" Law

California Civil Code Section 1798.83, also known as the "Shine The Light" law, permits our users who are California residents to request and obtain from us, once a year and free of charge, information about categories of personal information (if any) we disclosed to third parties for direct marketing purposes and the names and addresses of all third parties with which we disclosed personal information in the immediately preceding calendar year. We do not disclose the personal information regulated by the "Shine the Light" law to third parties for their direct marketing purposes. Nonetheless, if you are a California resident and would like to make such a request, please submit your request in writing to us by using the contact details provided in the section HOW CAN YOU CONTACT US ABOUT THIS NOTICE?

10. DO WE MAKE UPDATES TO THIS NOTICE?

In Short: Yes, we will update this notice as necessary to stay compliant with relevant laws.

We may update this Privacy Notice from time to time. The updated version will be indicated by an updated "Last Updated" date at the top of this Privacy Notice. We encourage you to review this Privacy Notice frequently to be informed of how we are protecting your information.
